Spring Festivol 1995, mum had a telephone installed at home.

Telephones were not rare in Tanzhou by then, but it was still exciting enough for Hua and me.

Mum had been calling us once a week since returning to Shenzhen.

Pressing the honds free button, we three chatted like before. Huo would put on a rore smile meanwhile.

Hua and I made a rule, this phone can not be used to call others, nor should others know our number. It is exclusively for recieving mum s call.
